WHERE PASSION MEETS PERFORMANCE

40,000 GOLF INSTRUCTORS

There are more than '40,000 Golf Instructors' in North America? How many would you trust with your children ... know many would get the defined 'Having More Fun' job done?

How many lessons produce 'Consistently', predictably improved outcomes?

Over decades of investigating random and specific golf instructors, I have found that less than two out of ten are effective at 'Getting Any Student From 'A' to a beneficial B' ... accomplishing a predetermined end-goal of that student's being able to really have more consistent 'Fun'!

That 20% is not nearly good enough! An 80% chance of failure means more frustration, failure and disappointment!

Poor instruction is the number one reason for the chronic attrition in this 'Great Game'. More participants are departing than arriving!

Equipment is getting better while average scores or 'handicaps' are not!

The fundamental reason is instructional quality failing to meet people's needs!

How sad is that?
